WASHINGTON, D. C., SUNDAY, JANUARY 25, 1914.

Second White House Reception NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN.

HE President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will entertain at the second official reception of the season at the White House Tuesday evening. when the distinguished members of the judiciary will be the guests of honor. It is always one of the most interesting and stately of all the large functions given at the White House. So much pressure had been brought to bear for invitations that the number asked had grown to such proportions that it was found necessary to close the list.

It is probable that the guests on Tuesday night will have the pleasure of again greeting the President's second daughter, Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre, on whose marriage not long ago centered the interest of the world. Mr. and Mrs. Sayre arrived in Washington yesterday from New York, During their honeymoon abroad they were entertained by hosts of friends in both London and Society awoke last week from its lethargy, and dinners and dances followed each other in rapid succession. The reception given by the Vice President and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall Monday evening brought together a notable company and was altogether a delightful event. It was the first of a series which they are giving; the second will be held tomorrow evening, and the other two receptions will be given on Monday evenings, February 9 and 16.

Through the efforts of the French Ambassador, M. Jusserand, Col. Robert M. Thompson, and other enthusiasts, interest has been revived in fencing. The officers of the reorganized Fencers' Club are Col. Thompson, president; the British Ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, vice president; the Assistant Secretary of War, Mr. Henry Breckenridge, secretary, and Dr. Scott Breckenridge, treasurer

Over 200 members of the fashionable world attended the tea yesterday at the clubrooms in Connecticut avenue. Mrs. Robert M. Thompson was the hostess for the occasion. Next Saturday afternoon Lady Spring-Rice, wife of the British Ambassador, will act in that capacity, while future teas will be under the chaperonage of the French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand and the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt,

Early in the afternoon a spirited fencing contest held the interest of the guests. Six women members of the club gave the "grand salute," those taking part in the exhibition being Miss Margaret Breckenridge, Miss Natalie Magruder, Miss Louise Barney, the Misses Drain, and Mrs. Chester P. Barnett.

In the men's contest were Mr. Henry Breckenridge, Mr. Sidney Page, Dr. Scott Breckenridge, and Dr. Graeme Hammond, of New York, who represented the New York Athletic Club.

At the end of the fencing bouts, the floor was given over to those earing to dance. Myer Davis' orchestra played throughout the afternoon. Refreshm were served from a handsomely appointed tea table.

Mrs. Thompson was assisted in receiving her guests by Lady Spring-Rice, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, Mrs. Robert Roosevelt, Mrs. Henry Breckenridge, and Miss Lydia Biddle.

The exhibition drill at the Riding and Hunt Club Friday night drew a record-breaking crowd to the galleries about the tan bark, and fashionable society turned out in force to witness the daring riding of Mrs. Sinclair Bowen, Miss Helen Buchanan, the Misses Allen, Miss Mildred Greble, Miss Ethel Mac-Murray, Miss Alice Shepard, and Miss Ruth Hitchcock.

As many of the guests went from dinner parties to the clubhouse, the galleries, filled with the beautifully gowned women and the officers in uniform, presented a brilliant picture.

The first of the two dances for which Mrs. Thomas F. Gaff has loaned her ballroom, will be held Friday night. Twelve prominent Washington hostesses will each entertain twelve guests at dinners at their respective homes, later taking them to Mrs. Gaff's residence. ballroom, will be held Friday night. Twelve prominent Washington hostesses ing them to Mrs. Gaff's residence.

The second dance of the series will be given Tuesday evening, February 17. The two dances promise to be the smartest affairs given this winter, and will greatly add to the enjoyment of the dancing contingent,

The tea dance seems to have taken the place of more formal evening entertainments. And at larger evening affairs an attempt is being made to shorten the dancing hours, so they will not encroach upon the breakfast hour.

How to Beautify a Weatherbeaten Face

(From Beauty and Health.)

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face solled by dirt, wind, or cold. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer vell of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The wornout skin comes off, not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug stere, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled. (From Beauty and Health.) hesa. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled, faded, or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows, with heat, worry, &c. An excellent wrinkle-remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotton made as follows: Powdered saxolite, I oz., dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This gives immediate results. immediate results.
